Butterfly Hill Two Rivers Restaurant and Catering

JOHNNY STEWART, CHEYENNE STEWART, AND CAMERON STACK

In 1996 a new restaurant, Two Rivers, emerged in Canton, Mississippi, which would soon change the landscape of the area for years to come. After obtaining a degree in Animal Science from Mississippi State, Johnny Stewart ventured into the toughest industry with little to no experience

Johnny dedicated the next seven years to perfecting his culinary skills. Each day he cut and cooked all the fish and steaks in preparation for his signature dishes we all know and love today. He always wanted his customers to be satisfied after each dining experience. Johnny's philosophy would soon embody the business aspect as he was determined to protect his employees and build a loyal team in hopes of sustainable longevity. Now, 27 years later, Two Rivers serves 2nd generation customers that continue to enjoy the same great food, with the same servers who once waited on them as children.

In recent years Two Rivers broadened its talents into the venue and reception business by adding the family farm owned since 1878 known as "Butterfly Hill," named in honor of Johnny's late mother Daisy Brame Stewart.

Cheyenne Stewart and
Johnny Stewart

Butterfly Hill hosts many memorable events for those in the community and surrounding areas. There's no doubt this grand venue has been touched by the hands of Johnny Stewart as he rehabilitated the property into a magical tranquil setting that one can only appreciate while in its presence.

Johnny Stewart recently added the E. & A. - Hesdorffer Building on the Canton square to his portfolio for a variety of events and catering services. Between Two Rivers, Butterfly Hill, and the Hesdorffer venue, Johnny's passion reveals itself with each experience. Some have said he's a legend in the culinary world; however, many call him "friend" due to his unwavering dedication to his businesses and patrons.

Over the last few years his daughter Cheyenne and son Cameron have been charged with the daily operations of Two Rivers as Johnny operates the catering and venues. However, you may get a glimpse of Johnny from time to time welcoming those to Two Rivers, and if you do, take a moment to shake the hand of the dedicated, loyal, vibrant man who created the legendary Two Rivers.
